The President’s Beat

Dear Membership,

Happy New Year!!! I hope everyone had a wonderful holiday season. Christmas and New Years are two of my favorite times of the year. I am able to take time out to connect with family without having to rush through a conversation. New Year’s Eve, I see as a time for reflection and then, New Year’s Day is a chance to do things better, or least to try.

Our Holiday Social was very enjoyable. I thank all of the CPAAAN members who were able to attend and contribute. I want to give a special “thank you” to Officer Sarmiento for his contribution, he definitely made our dinner special. Before I forget, Officer Sarmiento, please thank your mother for me. I can’t forget to thank Debbie Melby for the raffle prizes and the “to go” boxes.

At our Social, I announced the Graduation for Norfolk Police Department, Recruit Class 103. The Graduation will be Wednesday, January 3, 2019 at 6:30pm. The location: Attucks Theatre, 1010 Church street, Norfolk Virginia 23510. Please try your best to attend. We really need your help. I want our New Members to make a good effort to attend.

I look forward to seeing you at our next General Meeting, January 15, 2019 at 7pm.

Yvette Brown,
President
Happy New Year Norfolk!
It’s always good to take a look back and recall the good work we accomplished together in our respective communities. Please see the highlights of 2018. I look forward to working with you for safe and healthier communities in 2019!

September 2018 - T.R.U.E
Norfolk Police remained T.R.U.E to youth with the T.R.U.E Youth initiative, created by officers to assist high school students with workforce development, pre and post-graduation employment, college and trade school enrollment applications, and social media awareness. Since 2017, the T.R.U.E. Youth program has assisted over 100 students at 3 NPS high schools, and in September 2018, earned national recognition with a $5000 grant from Wal-Mart.

June 2018 - National Civic League Conference – Denver, Colorado
Norfolk Police Department was selected among hundreds of cities and police departments to feature 3 of their signature community outreach initiatives at the National Civic League Conference in Denver, Colorado. The purpose was to highlight impactful outreach for citizens, that produce meaningful outcomes, using the 21st Century community policing model.

July 2018 – Norfolk PD Lip-Sync Video
The Norfolk Police Department garnered unprecedented positive national attention for the City of Norfolk, and law enforcement officers from around the country, when Norfolk officers accepted a friendly challenge from the Corinth Police Department (TX) to produce a NPD lip-sync video.
As a result of accepting the challenge, the eyes of the world landed on Norfolk Police Department’s Facebook page with over 78 million views of the lip-sync video, and a more humanizing optic for police

The attending members (old and new) of CPAAAN enjoyed a smorgasbord of holiday foods and each others company. There was a 50/50 raffle and many door prizes. Happy Holidays and Happy New Year!

Oceanair Police Youth Academy Graduation

One of the highlights of the CPAAAN sponsorships is going to the graduations of the Police Youth Academy.

The Youth Academy helps build respect and comradery with the city’s children and encourages them to consider working toward being future police officers.

The kids love to see the K-9’s in action:
NSO ANNOUNCES PROMOTION, NEW CHIEF DEPUTY

Norfolk, Va. - The Norfolk Sheriff’s Office is proud to announce an important promotion. Lt. Col Michael O'Toole has promoted to the rank of Colonel. Col. O'Toole will now also assume the role of Chief Deputy.

Col. O'Toole, who ranks second in tenure, has served the NSO with distinction for nearly 33 years. Col. O'Toole has been instrumental in many corrections reforms over the years including the establishment of the Norfolk Drug Court twenty years ago, establishing the first GPS monitoring program for inmates in the Commonwealth, and implementing the first evidence-based reentry programs which have become models for jails across Virginia. More recently, Col. O'Toole helped establish the first vocational program state-wide for inmates in partnership with Priority Automotive.

In addition to his many jail responsibilities, Col. O'Toole is very active in the community. He serves on several boards including Ocean View Beach Kiwanis, Norfolk Community Service Board, Norfolk Drug Court Advisory Board, Priority Toyota Charity Bowl Board Member, ODU Hoops Club, Norfolk Criminal Justice Board, Norfolk Evidence Based Criminal Justice Board, and Virginia Prisoner and Juvenile Offender Re-Entry Council.

Col. O'Toole joined the Norfolk Sheriff’s Office in July of 1986. Born and raised in Norfolk, Col. O'Toole attended Norfolk Catholic High School and later Old Dominion University. He earned a master’s degree from ODU. Col. O'Toole is an adjunct professor at both ODU and TCC.

Honored guests at Col. O'Toole’s promotion ceremony included: Mayor Kenneth Cooper Alexander, Hon. Joseph Migliozzi – Norfolk Circuit Court, Mike Goldsmith - Assistant Norfolk City Manager, Joe Clark - NPD Assistant Police Chief, Councilman Martin Thomas, Mr. Dennis Ellmer & Mr. Stacey Cummings - Priority Automotive. Attorney George Neskins, Adm. (Ret) Jack Kavanaugh, Del. Joe Lindsey, ODU Coach Bobby Wilder and athletic staff, Col. Dave Hackworth and Lt. Col. Christopher Walz - Hampton Roads Regional Jail, George Schaefer – Clerk of the Court.

September 2018 – Hispanic Community Outreach
Norfolk Police increased outreach to the city’s Hispanic community for authentic engagement and mutual trust through several sustainable initiatives: Charla con Officials – Coffee with Police, Una Cita Con El Jefe – Talk with the Chief, and an after-school tutoring program for Spanish speaking high school students. The outreach was bolstered with the deployment of more than a dozen Spanish language speaking officers to the initiatives, and partnerships with local Spanish media: La Selecta 1050 AM and Hispanos De Valor. https://wtkr.com/2018/09/06/norfolk-police-to-hold-una-cita-con-el-jefe-outreach-event/

December 2018 – Project Toy Drop
Norfolk Police led its largest outreach to citizens to date, Project Toy Drop, in partnership with Kids Wish Network, Norfolk Public Schools and Walmart. Nearly 2000 youth and their families arrived to SCOPE to receive books, games and toys, 2 weeks before Christmas. This was the first time Project Toy Drop was executed in the state of Virginia, and led by a law enforcement organization in any city. https://www.wavy.com/news/local-news/norfolk/over-1-500-children-gifted-toys-clothes-at-project-toy-drop-in-norfolk/1662131910
